Food and Drink

Written by W.J. Oliver Year 7

There is a wide variety of food options available to Horizon students. Some food genres on offer at horizon are as follows: scrumptious sausage rolls, palatable pizza and some delectable desserts. This article will review the most sought-after options at Horizon so, let's have a look.

Public opinion

I conducted my own research and asked members of the school to share their most favourite item of food that they have purchased and devoured during their time here at Horizon...

Here's what they said:

"The Burgers," said Amelia Wood.
"Calzone" said Matilda Fisher.
"Cheese sandwich," said Grace Banks.
"Burger definitely," said an undisclosed person.

What's your least favorite?

"Hotdogs" said Amelia Wood.
"Pizzas taste like concrete," said Matilda Fisher.
"Burgers" said Grace Bankes.
"Hotdogs they have a weird texture," said some undisclosed person.

I then asked them:

What's your favorite drink Radnor splash, water, orange juice or milkshake?

"Radnor splash " - Amelia wood.
"Radnor splash " - Amelia M.
"Orange juice" - Matilda Fisher.
"Milk shake" - Grace banks.

What's your least favorite?

"Water " - Amelia Wood.
"Orange juice" - Grace.
"Orange juice" - Amelia M.

In conclusion, the results show that hotdogs are not the top dogs! Burgers seemed to be the favourite amongst the group of students we interviewed – we can see why. As for the drinks Radnor Splash seemed to come out as most popular and orange juice seemed to lack popularity.

WHY FEMINISM IS STILL RELEVANT

'Feminism' is a word we see a lot in modern media and society as a whole. Everybody has their own definitions regarding it; however, it is generally seen as the fight for women's rights and freedoms and an opposition to misogyny. Despite feminism's still undoubtable impertinence today, how can we understand its necessity if we don't understand it ourselves?

Where did feminism originate from?

The word feminism itself was first coined in 1837 by French philosopher, Charles Fourier as 'féminisme'. During this period of early advocacy for equality, the term 'feminism' referred to "feminine qualities or character," yet toward the end of the century it became inextricably linked to the suffragist movement. One of the first examples of feminism in literature is Mary Wollstonecraft's 1792 manifesto, 'A Vindication of the Rights of Woman'. Throughout the book, she argues that women should be allowed to have equal education to men and confronts the ideology of women being feeble-minded and unable to comprehend everything men can. Even today, she is considered the mother of feminism. Wollstonecraft's views particularly influenced American education campaigners such as Margaret Fuller and Elizabeth Cady Stanton. Famous writer, Virginia Woolf (who wrote feminist essay, "A Room of One's Own") said of her, "we hear her voice and trace her influence even now among the living."

What is intersectional feminism?

A term defined as 'the complex, cumulative way in which the effects of multiple forms of discrimination (such as racism, sexism, and classism) combine, overlap, or intersect especially in the experiences of marginalized individuals or groups.'

Intersectional feminism acknowledges the many ways that each woman experiences discrimination; 'white feminism' is a term used to describe a type of feminist who neglects the difficulties women of color, LGBTQ women and women of other minority groups face. This type of feminist is prevalent in history; for example, Susan B. Anthony prioritised wealthy, white women's rights over rights for every woman of every background. Tammy L. Brown authored an article for the ACLU, in which she stated, "When suffragists gathered in Seneca Falls, New York, in July 1848, they advocated for the right of white women to vote. The participants were middle and upper-class white women, a cadre of white men supporters and one African American male — Frederick Douglass. The esteemed abolitionist had forged a strong working relationship with fellow abolitionists and white women suffragists, including Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony. No Black women attended the convention. None were invited."

This piece of writing is a clear indicator on how the face of the women's rights movement were privileged, upper-class white women. Rights in general is great, however what is not great is the exclusion of women of colour for the benefit of white people.

How is feminism portrayed in the media?

Feminism in the media can range anywhere from out-right diminishing, sexist headlines to sassy Beyonce quotes on your Instagram feed, but there is no denying it's place on social media. Cases of misogyny are so frequent in the media, that we may simply brush over their existence. Examples include:

The tweet above is speaking about Corey Cogdell, an American athlete who just so happens to be married to an American football player. Opposed to focusing on her achievements (it was her second Olympic bronze medal), they only see her for her husband and his efforts, completely dismissing her own impressive accomplishments.

The New York Post article is regarding Former Secretary of State, Hillary Clinton. When the picture was taken, she was defending herself in a high-profile Congressional meeting and therefore must be a humourless tyrant at home. The fact that she wasn't smiling throughout an important meeting doesn't indicate her personality, but the headlines written about it indicate a strong sense of misogyny. The proof is in the pudding; women's emotions are judged and penalised more so just because of their gender.

This ideology of women being blinded by their emotions perpetuates the mindset of women being inferior and subservient to men; naturally, this mentality has a biblical background. The idea of women being faint-hearted, and incompetent relates back to The Garden of Eden, where Eve is tempted by the serpent to eat the forbidden fruit. Her so-called 'naivety' led to God cursing the serpent, the woman, then the man, before expelling the man and woman from the Garden before they ate of the tree of eternal life.

How can we ensure feminism is at the forefront of our minds going forward?

As I have previously mentioned, I find that feminism impacts everyday life. The conversations we have with one and other, the music being produced, the videos we watch; most of these things regard women, whether you are the woman in the conversation or whether the topic revolves around women. For example, only around a year or so ago, mass-misogynist Andrew Tate was on everybody's TikTok feed, ranting continuously about his definition of women, and promoting sexism to his susceptible, teenage boy audience. Ironically, as I write this, a pair of young boys have just walked past, spurring bigoted remarks about women that's gained them a light scold and disapproving look. I think that is reason enough to justify feminism's purpose in society and the fact that in 2024, I am writing an article, arguing it's place is also reason enough.

FOOTBALL SCORES ON THE DOORS!

WRITTEN BY: Razvan Rusu

Leeds vs Preston North End

An exhilarating time for Preston came in the second minute as Will Keane scored a game-defining goal. A great assist was made by Liam Miller to find the goal at the very beginning of the game. In the sixth minute, Junior Firpo crosses a curled shot into the box, and Danial James shoots it into the net. Only four minutes later, Leeds scored in the 90+3rd minute. They were given a penalty and up steps Joel Peroe. He got ready to shoot and he scored! It was a miracle for Leeds in the 90+4 minute he won a triumphant victory for the team.

Bayern Munich vs Werder Bremen

In the first half of the game, the score was 0-0. We already knew that Bayern Munich was second in the table and Bremen are thirteenth in the table, so we can assume that Bayern Munich would have the edge in this showdown. But in the fifty-ninth minute, Bremen surprised the audience and scored, Mitchell Weiser brought the three points home for the underdog team.

Carabao cup Liverpool VS Chelsea

Liverpool was indebted to goalkeeper, Caoimhin Kelleher, who produced another outstanding Wembley performance after being the hero when Chelsea was beaten on penalties in the 2022 EFL Cup final.

In a tight first half, he blocked brilliantly from Cole Palmer while Liverpool's Cody Gakpo saw a header bounce back off the post. Chelsea's Raheem Sterling also saw a close-range effort ruled out for offside against Nicolas Jackson.

As the chances came thick and fast after the break, Van Dijk thought he had headed Liverpool in front on the hour only for the goal to be contentiously ruled out for offside against Wataru Endo following a lengthy Video Assistant Referee (VAR) intervention as the Japan midfielder blocked off Chelsea defender Levi Colwill.

Conor Gallagher was also denied by the woodwork, then once more by the defiant Kelleher as he looked poised to make the breakthrough, Liverpool's keeper darting off his line to save while Chelsea somehow failed to score in a desperate goalmouth scramble in the closing moments of normal time.

Kelleher's Chelsea counterpart Djordje Petrovic was called into action in extra time, turning over a header from Liverpool's teenage substitute Jayden Danns while Harvey Elliott shot into the side-netting from a good position, also seeing a header miraculously kept out by the keeper. And then came that final twist to give Liverpool another Wembley victory over Chelsea and leave Pochettino still seeking his first trophy in England.

Barnsley VS Derby County

Derby County was granted the resulting corner which saw Eiran Cashin's header clear off the line and then Hourihane's 18th-minute corner was met by Bradley, whose header found the net. Conor Hourihane, was the first to threaten his opposition when he capitalized on a defensive error from Donovan Pines and fired in a shot which was deflected wide. Barnsley equalized fifteen minutes later when an attempted clearance fell to Phillips, who chested the ball down and hammered a volley just inside Joe Wildsmith's right-hand post from the edge of the area.

Barnsley's Nicky Cadden had a shot comfortably saved soon after the restart, but Phillips was on target again to score the winner in the 66th minute, meeting Cadden's corner with a near-post header.

Manchester City vs Manchester United

It seems a long time ago now that Pep Guardiola was having to defend his treatment of a player, he was accused of holding back raw talent when exciting youth academy player, Jadon Sancho, was excelling at Borussia Dortmund after realising he would not wait around to develop at City.

Phil Foden's equalizer was City's 600th goal in this stadium under Guardiola and it was a sublime effort. It was curled into the top corner out of Onana's reach, after he had run across Victor Lindelof on the right edge of the United box. His second saw him burst into the area from the other side, collect a pass from Julian Alvarez and drill a low shot home, almost through the United keeper, who could have done better to save the shot.

Foden is now picking his moments to get involved in attacks and watching England boss, Gareth Southgate, must surely find a way of getting the 23-year-old, who has scored 18 goals this season, into his starting line-up at Euro 2024 alongside the likes of Harry Kane and Jude Bellingham.

Haaland will have been pleased to get his name on the scoresheet given his incredible first half miss when he somehow put Foden's knock-back over an open goal from three yards.

Leeds United VS Sheffield Wednesday

Patrick Bamford put the audience on the verge of ecstasy near half-time, as he tapped in the ball at the far post from Junior Firpo's fine left-wing delivery.

The Owls defense was caught out again for Leeds' second goal, as Wilfried Gnonto fired in following a swift Leeds attacking move. It was a difficult night for penultimate victors, Wednesday, who offered little in response after Bamford's opener, as they could not continue their fine recent form to move out of the relegation battle. Victory for Leeds means they leapfrog Ipswich Town into second place, going a point above the Tractor Boys - who faced Cardiff on Saturday - and two behind the leaders, Leicester Football Club.

For the hosts, however, their winning run ended abruptly, and they remain in 23rd position, leveling on points with Stoke and Huddersfield in a crowded battle for Championship survival. Wednesday almost took the lead in the 16th minute when Marvin Johnson's corner fell to Djeidi Gassama, whose close-range finish was kept out by a stunning block from Leeds keeper, Illan Meslier.

Georginio Rutter twice came close for the visitors, first when he tried to chip a ball over Wednesday's keeper, James Beadle, and then glanced an effort on to the top of the net. Four minutes of time were added to the first half after a break in play, when Joe Rodon and Firpo collided, but the additional time benefited Leeds. Bamford prospered with his seventh goal in 10 league games in 2024 as Owl's defender, Akin Famewo, failed to pick him up when Firpo delivered an optimum ball into the box. Leeds doubled their advantage in the 58th minute after Meslier launched a free kick up field, with Rutter eventually sending Gnonto through to finish with ease.

Daniel Farke's side should have further added to their lead from the restart as Crysencio Summerville went clear and forced a solid save from Beadle. But they held on for a resolute victory against their Yorkshire rivals - their 11th in 12th league games.

CARS

The world of motor vehicles is varied and vast. Some seek pure thrills and technology from their cars, where others settle for reliability and comfort. This article looks at which brands of car manufacturer are better for your needs, and some cars of choice, along with much more!

UNDERSTANDING THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN UNLEADED AND DIESEL PETROLEUM:

UNLEADED: The older and cheaper brother of diesel.

DIESEL: A more durable but more expensive option.

It is important to know what type of fuel your vehicle consumes. Failure to put the correct fuel in results in a full engine rebuild, which can cost thousands of pounds!

Car hacks:

- 1) Use hand sanitizer to de-ice frozen car locks.
- 2) Use cupcake liners to keep cupholders clean.
- 3) De-fog car headlights with toothpaste; cover with toothpaste and scrub with a toothbrush. When the toothpaste dries, spritz with water and wipe with cloth.
- 4) Test the frame condition of your vehicle by inserting a £1 coin into the panel gaps. If the coin can be pulled through the gap effortlessly, the frame of the vehicle is in good condition. If the coin gets wedged in the gap, the vehicle could be losing structural integrity.
- 5) Although this tip fails to serve FWD (front wheel drive) cars, adding weight to your vehicle may provide traction on nightmarish winter roads.

GHOST CARS - ghostly vehicular mishaps.

-On the streets of Russia in the 1960's, a black Volga would be seen near the scene of a kidnapping. What happened to the victims is unknown. The care is depicted in some stories as being painted red with devil horns where the door mirrors should have been.

-Surrey police responded to reports of a Vauxhall Astra leaving the road. After hours of searching, the car was found nose-down in a ditch. The driver had crawled out to die...but he was almost a skeleton. Doctors claimed he had been dead for five months. So, what had motorists seen?

-In Cape Town, South Africa, a family was sleeping peacefully when they were awoken by a car engine roaring into life. Fearing that their Renault Megane was being stolen, the family rushed downstairs to find the car lurching backwards! Having found that there were no keys in the ignition and the vehicle's handbrake on, the family called the police. But the police didn't believe them... until they saw the spooky spectacle! Renault claims a faulty starter motor caused the incident, but many aren't sure..

MOVIE REVIEWS

Wonka!

Starring the charismatic Timothée Chalamet, this captivating film is an absolute must-watch that promises to keep audiences enthralled! The storyline introduces a contemporary twist to the iconic character Willy Wonka, navigating his way through a maze of challenges, evading law enforcement and rival contenders. While the familiar characters –such as Verruca Salt–from the past have seemingly moved on to lead ordinary lives, the film is brimming with deception, mischievous antics, and a delectable abundance of chocolate! A true treat for the senses, this cinematic experience is bound to satisfy any sweet tooth. In my opinion, it's a solid 5/5 stars!

Gran Turismo!

“Gran Turismo” is a film about racing and resilience, it captivates audiences with its adrenaline-pumping racing sequences, immersing viewers in the electrifying world of high-speed competition.

The film showcases the profound passion, remarkable skill, and fierce rivalry within the racing sphere of all the fellow racers! Compared to Wonka, these two films are complete opposites! Wonka is based on the Roald Dahl book ‘Willy Wonka and The Chocolate Factory’ but Gran Turismo is based on a true story. So, choose wisely because they are both amazing films!

Barbie!

‘Barbie’ is an amazing film based on the popular Mattel toy franchise ‘Barbie’ (as the title suggests). This high budget film focus’ on growing up and realising that womanhood isn’t all pink, pleasure and possibilities. I would have given this film 5 stars but it did make me cry a few times, so I had to knock of a star. Yet again, whilst comparing it to Wonka and Gran Turismo, I can definitely tell a difference!

MOVIE REVIEWS

Super Mario Bros!

'Super Mario Bros' is an astonishing animated film formed from the popular game Super Mario Bros - Mario and Luigi- as they embrace upon their journey trying to save princess Peach from the evil clutches of Bowser! As they get split up from each other, they must go on two completely different paths! When you compare this to barbie you can definitely tell a difference! This must watch is all about finding each other and working as a team to fight evil but barbie is all about an almost perfect pink world.

A comparison!

All of the films are great, but there are a few differences I'm going to touch upon a few of them! If you're looking for something that's a fantasy you should go to see either see Wonka or Barbie, if you want to see an animated film, you should go see The Super Mario Bros movie, and finally if you are in the mood for a biographical sports drama, I would recommend you to watch Gran Turismo!

Interview With Miss McDermott!

What's your favourite film out of the 4?

'Barbie'

Why do you like that one the most?

Because it was really funny, but it also had a lot of good messages in it.

What's your favourite part in this film?

When all the barbies claim barbieland back.

Could you rank the 4?

- 1-Barbie
- 2-Gran Turismo
- 3-Wonka
- 4-Super Mario Bros

Out of 10, what would you rate each of the films?

- Wonka- 7/10
Gran Turismo- 8/10
Barbie- 10/10
Super Mario Bros- 5/10

Have you got any recommendations for films that I should review in the future?

Musicals- West side story, Hairspray and Tick Tick boom.
